Celebrating Our Centennial with a Community Recipe Book

This year marks the centennial of our library, a milestone made possible by the unwavering support of the communities of Stow, Munroe Falls, and beyond. As we reflect on 100 years of connection, learning, and growth, I wanted to find a special way to honor the diverse talents, backgrounds, and traditions that make our community unique. What better way to do that than by creating a community recipe book?

Food has always been central to my family's holiday traditions. Pierogi (yes, that's plural—pieróg is singular!), kielbasa, kolaczki, and more have been staples at our Christmas dinners, lovingly passed down through generations. Preserving these recipes is important to me because it ensures these traditions can be shared and cherished by future generations. That same spirit of preservation inspired the idea for the SMFPL Community Recipe Book.

Sharing recipes has a way of bringing people together. I've experienced this firsthand in many ways. My elementary school once created a community recipe book that my family still uses to this day. It's not just a collection of recipes—it's a time capsule. My friends and I love flipping through it, seeing familiar names, reminiscing about our childhood, and wondering where those families are now.

Another memorable experience was during my time with the social media team at History Colorado. At the height of the pandemic, when many were isolating and holiday gatherings were put on hold, we wanted to spread some joy. We invited people from across the state to share their favorite recipes, compiling them into a free digital cookbook. It was heartwarming to see so many people excited to contribute, connecting through food—even if it was only virtually.

As we celebrate the centennial of SMFPL and look to the future, I hope this recipe book serves as a snapshot of the present—a reflection of the vibrant, diverse, and supportive community we are fortunate to be a part of. Inside, you'll find recipes that represent the heart and soul of Stow and Munroe Falls. From hearty dinners to light desserts, there's something for everyone to enjoy.

Thank you for being part of this journey and for helping us celebrate 100 years of community, connection, and tradition.

Bon Appétit! Smacznego! Enjoy!

Grandma's Coffee Cake

Maggie Kelling (Kent, OH)

My mother received this recipe from her best friend and made it for our family frequently. All the women in the family have adopted it and made it often. Our family likes to make Christmas gifts for each other – I started making small loaves for my family and friends each year. Each year my list grows! My niece-in-law entered the recipe at the Holmes County Fair in 2024, and it won a blue ribbon and $5.00 which she passed on to me! I was so excited to win something for baking!

- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt

2. Add eggs.
3. Alternate adding dry ingredients and the sour cream.
4. Add the vanilla.
5. Mix the topping ingredients together.
6. Preheat the oven to 350°.
7. Grease a tube pan/angel food cake pan.
8. Place ½ the batter evenly around the pan.
9. Sprinkle ½ the topping mixture over the batter.
10. Repeat with remaining batter and topping.
11. Bake 30-40 minutes. Test for doughiness with cake tester. It should come out almost clean.

 For gifts: Can make 2 loaf size pans and/or mini loaf size pans. Can reduce baking time 5-10 minutes for smaller pans.

Kielbasa and Cabbage Soup

Anna Hale (Stow, OH)

I found this recipe years ago and first made it on a very blustery, snowy day. I wasn't sure if my kids would like it because of the cabbage. Turned out they loved it! Simple supper of the soup served with rye bread and butter. The delicious aroma of the soup filled the kitchen and I also remember it had been a snow day! That made it even more special!

Ingredients:

- 1 Tablespoon olive oil
- 1 lb. kielbasa or smoked sausage, sliced thinly
- 1 Tablespoon garlic, minced
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 head cabbage, chopped
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 teaspoon dried thyme
- 1 teaspoon dried basil
- 4 cups (32 oz) canned tomato sauce
- 4 cups chicken (or beef) broth
- 1 Tablespoon freshly ground pepper

Optional:

- 1 Tablespoon brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper

Directions:

1. Sauté step: In a large soup pot or Dutch Oven, heat oil over medium-high heat and cook sausage slices until lightly browned. Add all vegetables and lower heat to medium. Cook slowly, turning over every few minutes, until vegetables are wilted.
2. Simmering step: Add remaining ingredients and bring to a simmer. Turn heat to low and cook for 45 minutes. Discard bay leaves. Serve immediately. A good rye bread with butter is a great accompaniment. Makes 8 Servings.

My Mother's Potato Soup

Elinor Cooper (Stow, OH)

I grew up loving my mother's homemade soups and have passed the recipes down to my children as well, who love them also.

Ingredients:

For the Soup:

- 1 lb. smoked sausage
- 1 large or 2 medium onions, chopped
- ¼ cup vegetable oil
- 12 cups water
- ½ teaspoon garlic powder
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- 2 Tablespoons instant beef bouillon
- 4 to 5 medium potatoes, chunked and peeled
- Salt to taste
- Dumplings (optional)

For the Dumplings:

- 1 cup flour
- 1 egg
- ½ cup milk or water
- 1/8 teaspoon salt

Directions:

For the Soup:

1. In a large soup pan, lightly brown the onions in oil with 8 to 10 medium thick (1/8 inch) cut slices of sausage.
2. Add water, garlic powder and paprika.
3. Bring to a rolling boil.
4. Add instant beef bouillon.
5. Add potatoes to water and cook for 10 minutes or until tender.
6. OPTIONAL: Add dumplings when potatoes are soft.

For the Dumplings:

1. In a bowl, mix together until smooth: flour, egg, milk (or water), and salt. It will be stiff at first but will smooth out and become pasty. If you use milk, the dumplings will break apart slightly, but this adds to the thickness of the soup. If you use water, they will stay together. Experiment with both for your preference.
2. Add to soup mixture and cook 10 minutes after all dumplings have floated to the top.

The flavor of the soup improves if made a day ahead and refrigerated overnight.*

To make a thicker soup, add 1 cup leftover mashed potatoes or 1 cup of instant mashed potato mix. Bring to a boil again and simmer an additional 10 or 15 minutes. Yield 6 to 8 servings.*

Russian Beet/Potato Salad (Vinigret)

Larisa Mavrides (Munroe Falls, OH)

I grew up eating this simple Russian salad. Our children and grandchildren "ask" for this salad for every holiday and family get together. Our son published his own version in the Riverview PTA Cookbook in the 80s.

Ingredients:

- 4 large potatoes (baked, peel when cool)
- 3-4 cooked beets (or use 1 15 oz can)
- 1 15 oz can of light red kidney beans (rinse well)
- 1 15 oz can of sauerkraut (rinse, drain well)
- 3-4 baby dill pickles
- 3 green onions (or ¼ cup red/white onions, fine diced)
- ¼ cup vegetable oil
- 2 Tablespoons white vinegar

Directions:

1. In a large bowl, dice cooked potatoes (1" dice) bigger than other ingredients.
2. Add sauerkraut, diced beets, beans (you may substitute beans of choice), pickles, and onions.
3. Toss mixture with oil and vinegar.
4. Add salt and pepper (adjust to your taste).
5. Chill for 2-3 hours.
6. Enjoy this odd mixture!!

 Can make a day ahead, put in fridge, and dress it a couple of hours before serving.

Chicken and Dumplings

Bethany W (Ravenna, OH)

My mom and grandma made this recipe often. It was so well-loved that they would often make two giant stock pots of it. My grandma would call me and say, "I'm making chicken and dumplings on Sunday; come over and bring Tupperware" and I would eat bowl after bowl, sitting at the table with her and my grandpa. They both passed away before I could ever get a full recipe out of them. My mom always told me it was an all-day affair, so I had only got bits and pieces from her on how to make it. Looking at recipe after recipe online, I finally tried to recreate it with my husband, and we made it just like I remembered.

Ingredients:

- Chicken thighs or quarters
- Celery
- Onion
- Carrots
- Chicken bouillon (L.B. Jamison soup base is best, in my opinion)
- Flour
- Milk
- Egg
- Baking powder

 Amounts of each ingredient vary on the amount of chicken, and personal preferences for broth flavor and dumpling consistency.*

Directions:

1. Cut celery, carrots, onion. Can leave in bigger pieces if you want to take out later.
2. Add vegetables and chicken quarters or thighs to large stockpot.
3. Add water until chicken is covered and then a little bit more water.
4. Bring to a boil, then simmer on low with lid on for 5-6 hours.
5. Remove chicken and let cool. If desired, remove celery, carrots and onion.
6. After chicken has cooled, discard skin, bones and cartilage.
7. Add chicken bouillon to desired taste.
8. In a separate bowl, mix flour, eggs, milk, and baking soda until it makes a thick mixture, somewhere between a cookie dough and biscuit dough.
9. Bring the soup to a boil. You'll want to use mostly flour and just a few Tablespoons of baking soda, then adding an egg or two, and a few Tablespoons of milk.
10. Add the ingredients as you need to get the consistency described previously.
-  Note: the more baking soda, the more "bite" the dumpling will have, depending on your preferences.*
11. Use a spoon or very small cookie scoop to drop balls of dough into the pot. They will expand. They usually sink first and will float after a few minutes.
12. After you've added enough dumplings (you just want the top covered), cover with a lid. The cook time will vary. Cook for about 15 minutes then take one out and cut in half to ensure it's cooked through and taste test it.

Chicken and Dumplings (continued)

Tips: For the first time making it, I would try to make the dough and cook 1-2 dumplings first. After they're cooked through, taste test it to see if it's the consistency you want. Chicken bones can be very tiny if using quarters so be extra careful when eating it. The dumplings will continue to soak up broth! When the first batch of dumplings is done, I usually transfer to another container to make more dumplings. I usually need to make more broth as well because the dumplings soak up a lot of broth.

Chicken 'n' Rice

The Neff Family (Stow, OH)

This is a meal my grandma would cook and my mom later as well. I have a copy of the recipe in my grandma's handwriting.

- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can milk
- 1 4oz can mushroom pieces, drained (optional)

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 350°.
2. In a bowl mix mushroom soup and 1 can milk.
3. Reserve $\frac{1}{2}$ cup.
4. To soup add 1 can mushrooms (drained), rice and $\frac{1}{2}$ envelope onion soup.
5. Mix this and pour in bottom of square casserole dish.
6. Add chicken, pour remaining mushroom soup over top.
7. Sprinkle the remaining onion soup over chicken.
8. Bake covered for 1 hour.
9. Remove cover, bake additional 15 minutes.

Chicken Paprikash

Anna Hale (Stow, OH)

This is an old Hungarian family favorite with each generation making it their own way but never writing it down until my father took notes watching my mother make it. Thankfully it is now written down for future generations.

Ingredients:

- 3 lb. chicken thighs & drumsticks
- 2 Tablespoons olive or vegetable oil
- 2 Tablespoons butter
- 3 Tablespoons sweet Hungarian paprika, divided
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 Tablespoon butter
- 3 Tablespoons flour, divided
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 1 cup sour cream

For the Dumplings (optional):

- 4-5 eggs (1 per person)
- 1 ½ - 2 cups flour
- 2 Tablespoons water
- ½ teaspoon salt

Directions:

1. Season chicken with ½ Tbsp. paprika and salt and pepper.
2. Heat large skillet on medium high, add oil and sear chicken in batches until nicely browned about 6-7 minutes skin side down first and 4-5 minutes on the other side, turning down heat if browning too fast and don't over crowd the pan; work in batches.
3. Remove chicken to plate, turn down heat to medium, add butter then the sliced onions. Saute until translucent, about 5 minutes.
4. Add remaining 2 ½ Tbsp. paprika and cook 1 minute then add 2 Tbsp. flour and stir for 1 minute. Add chicken broth slowly while stirring well.
5. Place chicken back in skillet, cover and cook simmering for 35 - 45 minutes until fully cooked.
6. Remove chicken to platter to keep warm and finish gravy.
7. Combine 1 cup sour cream with 1 Tbsp. flour and splash of water in small bowl or 2 c. measuring cup.
8. Start gradually adding warm sauce from pan to temper it and prevent sour cream from curdling, using about ¼ cup total sauce.
9. Pour mixture back into pan and stir in well.
10. Add chicken to pan and serve immediately with optional dumplings or noodles. Serves 4-6.

Three Sisters Stew (Zucchini, Corn, Green Beans)

Lydia Rose (Stow, OH)

My mom made this stew regularly when I was growing up all year long, so it is soul food for me. She would sometimes substitute zucchini with summer squash or banana squash, and sometimes she would add carrots. She would make this stew with add different kinds of meat depending on what was available. She typically used the tomatoes, zucchini, and cilantro from her garden. A few years ago when I was reading the book "Braiding Sweetgrass," I learned of the agricultural technique of Native Americans to plant corn, zucchini, and green beans together, calling it the "Three Sisters." I liked that that name because in my family growing up we were many times referred to as the three sisters, Teresa, Lydia, and Yvonne, and their brother Joey.

Ingredients:

- 8 oz steak cut into small pieces and seasoned with salt, pepper, and garlic powder
- 3 Tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 medium size zucchini cut into small cubes
- 1 cup of frozen green beans
- 1 medium onion diced
- 1 can of corn (or frozen corn about 1 to 1 1/2 cups)
- 2 to 3 cups of water
- 1 Tablespoon white vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon cumin
- ½ cup chopped cilantro including stems
- ¼ cup of chopped cilantro leaves only (for garnish)

Directions:

1. In cast iron frying pan, brown/toast the meat with 1 Tbsp of vegetable oil. Meat should be seasoned before cooking.
2. As meat is cooked and browned, put in a stewing pot.
3. When all meat is cooked, add hot water, about 3/4 cup, to the frying pan and stir to lift up all the browned pieces in the bottom of the pan and pour into the stewing pot.
4. In same frying pan, heat empty until water is dried and add 1 Tbsp of vegetable oil and sauté onions until transparent.
5. Turn up heat a bit and add zucchini to toast. Stir so the onions and zucchini don't burn but the zucchini should get toasted; add to the stew.
6. Add 1/2 cup to 3/4 cup of hot water to frying pan to lift up any browned bits and add to the stew. Add enough water to have about 1/2 inches of water above ingredients.
7. Bring to a boil and then add corn and green beans.
8. Reduce heat to a slow boil for 8-10 minutes. Then reduce to a simmer and add chopped cilantro with stems.
9. Simmer on low for at least 20 to 30 minutes until ready to serve.
10. Serve with chopped fresh cilantro leaves.

 To make the stew more hearty, sometimes my mom would add a whole medium potato, peeled, to the stew to cook when she added the corn and green beans. Cook the stew for about 20 to 30 minutes until the potato is very soft. Then mash/rice potato into the stew and cook for about 10-15 minutes more. Other times, she would dice the potato into small cubes and add it to the stew when she added the corn. Other times, she would toast the potato with onions and zucchini. All variations were delicious! We ate this stew with buttered toasted tortillas (corn or flour) or with Italian bread.

2. Add butter and pulse until flour mixture is pale yellow and resembles coarse cornmeal, five to six 1-second pulses.

Pumpkin Cheesecake

Molly Enrick (Stow, OH)

I make this almost every Thanksgiving as our holiday dessert. My kids like to help by putting the graham crackers in a gallon bag and whacking them into crumbs, then squishing the crust ingredients together by hand to press into the pan (just wash hands before and after...).

Ingredients:

For the Crust:

- 1 sleeve cinnamon graham crackers, broken into crumbs (about 1.5 cups)
- 1 Tablespoon sugar
- 5 Tablespoons butter, melted

For the Filling:

- 3 packages (8 oz) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon allspice
- Whipped cream for garnish

Directions:

1. Pre-heat oven to 350° (conventional setting).
2. Prepare a springform pan and wrap the bottom of the outside with a piece of aluminum foil.
3. In a small bowl, combine graham cracker crumbs, sugar, and butter.
4. Press the mixture onto the bottom and slightly up the sides of the springform pan.
5. Bake the crust at 350° for 5 min, then set aside to cool on a wire rack.
6. In a mixing bowl, combine cream cheese, sugar, and vanilla until smooth.
7. Add eggs, pumpkin, and spices and beat until just combined.
8. Pour the filling into the crust.
9. Place the springform pan (still wrapped in foil to keep the water out) into a large rectangular baking pan or roasting pan filled with 1-2 inches of hot water. Carefully place in 350° oven and bake for 1 hour, until center is almost set.
10. Remove from oven and place springform pan on a wire rack to cool. After about 10 minutes, carefully run a knife around the edge of the pan to loosen.
11. After the cheesecake has cooled to room temperature (about an hour), refrigerate until serving. Remove the sides of the pan just before serving.
12. Slice and serve with whipped cream on top.

Susan's Buttery Cashew Brittle

Ray Bodnar (Stow, OH)

This is one of our traditional Christmas recipes. My niece, Susan, made it every year to pass out as gifts and to enjoy. She taught me to make it.

Ingredients:

- 2 cups of sugar
- 1 cup of light-colored corn syrup
- ½ cup of water
- 1 cup of butter (2 sticks)
- 3 cups (about 12 ounces) raw cashews
- 1 teaspoon baking soda, sifted

Directions:

1. Combine sugar, corn syrup, and water in a 3-quart saucepan.
2. Cook and stir until sugar dissolves.
3. Bring mixture to boil; add butter and stir until butter is melted.
4. Clip a candy thermometer to side of pan.
5. Reduce heat to medium-low, continue boiling at a moderate, steady rate, stirring occasionally, until thermometer registers 280°, the soft crack stage (about 35 minutes).
6. Pour in cashews slowly and stir (pouring in too quickly will cause them to clump), continue cooking over medium low heat, stirring frequently until thermometer registers 300°, the hard-crack stage (10 to 15 minutes more).
7. Remove pan from heat; remove thermometer. Quickly stir in the baking soda, mixing thoroughly.
8. Pour mixture onto 2 buttered baking sheets or 2 buttered 15x10x1 inch pans OR place parchment paper on cookie sheet and pour mixture onto the paper.
9. As the cashew brittle cools, stretch it out by lifting and pulling with 2 forks OR wooden spoon from the edges. Loosen from pans as soon as possible, pick up sections and break them into bite-sized pieces.
10. Store tightly covered.
11. Makes about 2 ½ pounds (72 servings).

Susan's Candied Pecans

Ray Bodnar (Stow, OH)

5. Once pecans are completely coated, sprinkle the dry ingredients over the pecans and stir until evenly distributed. Make sure to scrape any extra cinnamon sugar mixture off the sides and bottom of the bowl and incorporate it into the pecan.
6. Spread the pecans evenly on the prepared baking sheet.
